A cement mixer delivers thick, wet __________ to a construction site. The concrete is mixed and poured. After a while, it becomes _______ and strong. Concrete is used to make walls, _______, roofs, and even bridges and highways.

The drum turns slowly to mix the ________, water, crushed rock, and powdery cement.

The wet concrete slides down a _______ to the ground.

Water for making the concrete is stored in a small ________.

A construction worker __________ the concrete. Soon, it will dry as hard as a rock!