Crabs can be as small as a _____ or as big as a dinner plate. They scuttle quickly over the ________ or scurry across the shore. When a dangerous animal comes near, they burrow into the ______ or hide under a ______.

A crab moves _______ on its bony legs.

A thick, round _______ protects a crab’s back like a coat of armour.

______ on moving stalks are good for keeping a look out.

A ______ body makes it easy to wriggle under rocks.

Strong _______ are for crushing food and fighting off attackers.

A crab has ________ to smell and taste things.