Your body is packed full of soft parts, called ________, that do extremely important jobs. They help you to breathe, to _____, and even to think. There's also a lot of thick ________ inside your body. It carries food and ________ around, from your head to your toes!

Your ________ is inside your head. It helps you to think and learn.

Your heart pumps ________ around your body all day and all night.

Every time you breathe in, two spongy bags called ________ fill up with air.

Your ________ churns up all the food you eat into mushy soup!

Your wiggly ________ soaks up the best bits of food. The rest of it slides to the end and you to the bathroom.