

To help you complete this worksheet, use the Nature's Places book.

Polar region

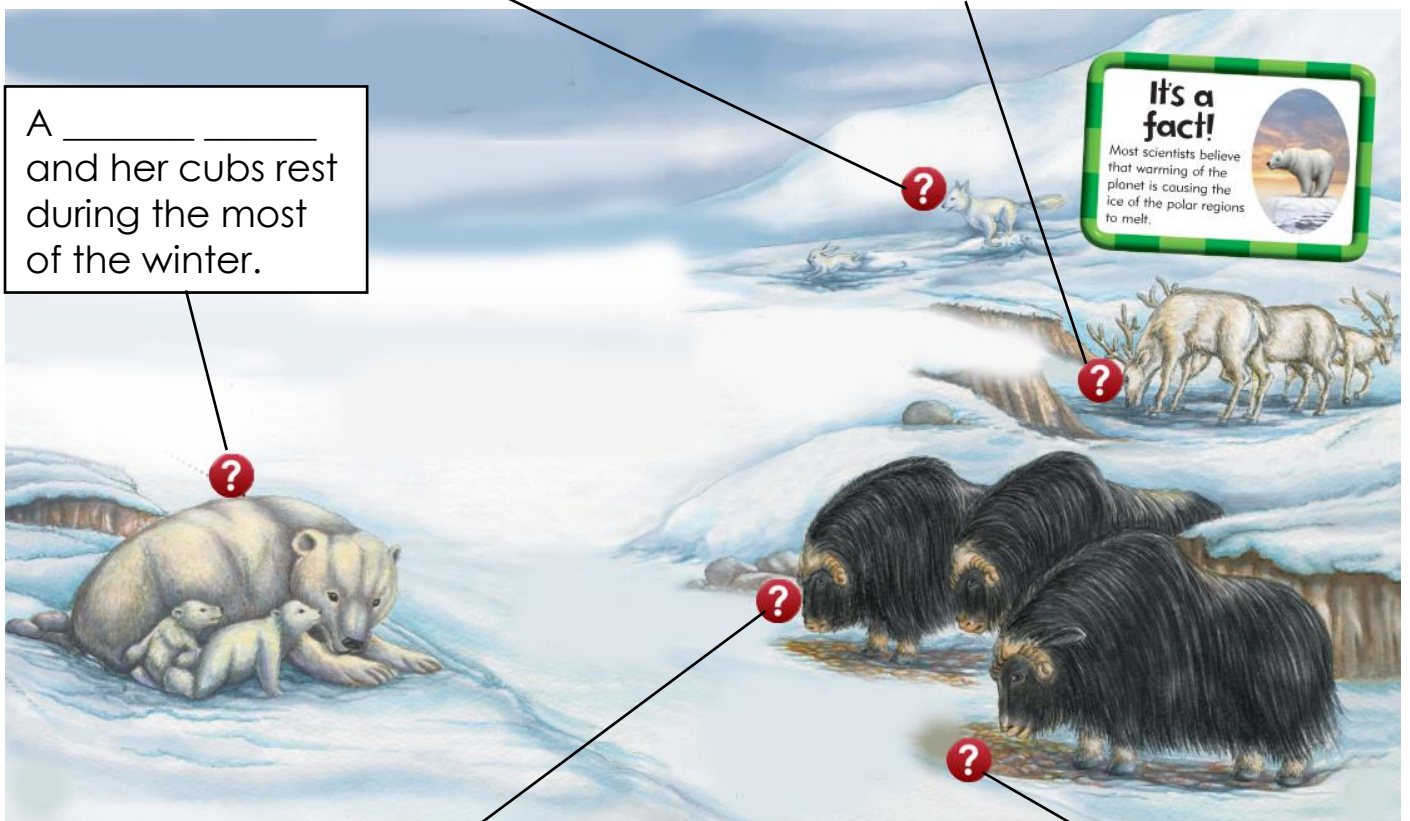

The North and South _____ are the “top” and “bottom” of Earth. Polar lands are _____ than anywhere else in the world. The _____ is the area around the North Pole. The big picture shows some animals of the Arctic in _____.

An _____ must run fast to catch a hare.

_____ have wide hooves so they can walk easily in deep snow.

A _____ and her cubs rest during the most of the winter.

It's a fact!
Most scientists believe that warming of the planet is causing the ice of the polar regions to melt.

_____ have a thick coat to protect them from the cold.

_____ are plantlike living things that grow on rocks and trees. They make good food for musk oxen.