

To help you complete this worksheet, use the World of Insects book.

Beetle

There are thousands of different beetles in the world, and they come in many _____, shapes, and sizes. Beetles are tough insects, with _____ coverings called wing cases on their backs. Beetles spend much of their time _____ on the ground. They either run or _____ away to escape from danger.

The male stag beetle has huge _____ that look a bit like a deer's antlers.

Male stag beetles sometimes lock jaws and try to push each other over. They do this to attract _____.

_____ case.

This is a male giant stag beetle. It can _____ to nearly 7 centimetres long.

A beetle's delicate _____ are hidden under its wing cases.

Like all insects, a beetle always keeps _____ legs on the ground as it walks.